DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-10 are allowed.

The best prior art of record particularly Ogawa et al. (JP 10-095506) teach to control the waste disposal among a waste producer, a waste collecting and carrying person, and an intermediate waste disposal person by collecting the information relating to the flow of waste disposal using a communication satellite, however Ogawa et al. does not teach the following claim limitations.

The primary reason for the allowance of claims 1-6 is the inclusion of the limitations of an comprising: a two-dimensional barcode reader and a satellite communication system, wherein a two-dimensional barcode label indicative of data regarding a collection place and a generation a primary cargo bill and a secondary bill are employed in a combined manner, the primary cargo bill containing necessary items described therein according to the information including of the two-dimensional barcode label and data of measured weight of a container or a waste transporting vehicle, which has been input to a terminal for the satellite communication system, said primary cargo bill being used for managing the waste treatment in said waste generating facility, said collecting/transporting company, and said intermediate treating company, said secondary bill being used for managing the waste treatment in said intermediate treating company and said final disposal company. It is these limitations found in each of the claims, as they are claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.

The primary reason for the allowance of claims 7-10 is the inclusion of the limitations of means for transmitting and receiving information of a secondary bill being used for managing waste treatment in said intermediate treating company and said final disposal company. It is these limitations found in each of the claims, as they are claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.
